Recent Sales.

There have been quite a number of trades made in Columbia in the last ten days, and besides several farms have changed hands in the county.

The Todd residence, in this city, which was owned by Prof. R. R. Moss, was sold to Mr. T. E. Waggener, the consideration being $3,750. Mr. Waggener is now in possession. He will make some improvements on this already desirable and valuable property.

Rev. Jesse L. Murrell and wife came to Columbia last week, seeking a home. While here they purchased of Mr. W. P. Summers the latter's residence, on "Bomar Heights," paying $2,300 cash. Rev. Murrell is on the Lebanon circuit and will not remove to this place until next year. He is enterprising and will make us a very desirable citizen. His wife is a most excellent lady, and she and her husband will be valuable acquisitions to this city.

Mrs. Ann Lizzie Walker has removed to her residence, on Greensburg street, recently purchased of Mr. W. E. McCandless, a desirable home. The amount paid, we learn, was $2,250.

Mr. A. G. Todd has removed his family to the residence vacated by Mrs. Walker, near the homestead, for which between three and four thousand dollars were paid. The dwelling is comparatively new and is conveniently constructed, and excellent home.

Mr. Geo. H. Nell has sold a one-half interest in the Paramount theatre to Mr. E. Cheatham and the show is now being run as a firm. The consideration in this deal was $500. Also Mr. Nell has sold Mr. Cheatham a one-half interest in his grocery store, the trade to take effect the first of November.

Several farms have changed hands in the county, but we are not advised as to prices, and an item without the consideration is not much news.

Farms and homes about Columbia are in demand, and if the present spirit of changing location is kept up, the population of Columbia is bound to increase. Our citizens are at all times glad to extend the hand of welcome to those who come into our midst, to assist in further improving the town, making it so desirable that prospective bidders become attracted the first visit they make to the place.

Columbia has been an educational point for more than sixty years, hence there is not a boy nor girl that has reached the age of 14 years but has a fairly good education, and they can all swim, classic old Russell's creek furnishing the waters.

If you want to educate your children, come to Columbia.

Red Cross Members.

The Red Cross Commission for France has cabled that the hospitals are in urgent need of Bath towels, handkerchiefs, napkins, hand towels and sheets. These articles cannot be secured locally nor even here in large quantities. So, the Red Cross Chapter throughout the whole United States have been called upon to supply these articles. By having the whole country touched for them, it is hoped the demand can be supplied.

All articles must be new and of the following dimensions:

Bath towels 19x38 inches, Hand towels 18x30 inches, Handkerchiefs 18x18 inches, Napkins 14x14 inches, Sheets 63x102 inches.

All of good strong, not fine, material. Sheets should be of heavy unbleached material.

OUR QUOTA.

Each family is to furnish either a set of the following articles, 1 bath towel, 2 hand towels, and 2 handkerchiefs; or 1 napkin and 1 sheet.

All should be neatly laundered and sent in as early as possible, not later than Nov. 1.

Mrs. R. R. Moss is chairman of this campaign and will receive all such articles or money at her home in Columbia, either by hand or mail. Since so many articles of these kind cannot be found in local stores, they will be ordered and if any person cannot find the articles they can furnish the money to Mrs. Moss and she can order same. It is estimated that sheets will cost $1.50 each, bath towels, $3.00 per dozen, hand towels 25 cents each napkins, $2.40 per dozen; handkerchiefs, $1.20 per dozen.

Remember all articles should be of the dimensions above named. Each family can figure out the amount of money to give if they cannot find the articles locally.

Springfield boy right under nose of German guns, finds time to write home every week. Following is a letter received Tuesday.

On Duty With American Troops. France

Mr. N. R. Waggener, Dear Folks:—

How are all? I am fine and dandy and getting along nicely. Tell Mell's folks to have Xmas dinner waiting for me, Ha! Ha! Am coming home then, or at least hope to any way.

Well I am getting to be an old man, was 23 years old the 13th inst. Everything is lively over here, but I have been a good dodger so far and hope I can continue so until the battle is over and I can return home. We get shelled every day, but we give the Boche as much as he gives us, and more. We have been doing some splendid work lately and certainly have those square heads bluffed and on the run, so don't worry about me, I guess I can hold my own with them and get several before they ever get me.

Well the enemy shells have begun falling pretty thick and I guess I had better close and get in our underground dug-out. Hope to hear from you soon.

Your Loving Son, Privatd Ernest Waggener,

Rev. L. F. Piercy Goes to Hopkinsville Circuit.

The Methodist Church here loses an able man in Rev. L. F. Piercy, who has been called by the Conference M. E. Church South, to take charge of the important Hopkinsville Circuit. Mr. Piercy has done a great work in Columbia, and the people of the town and county regardless of denominational affiliation will regret to see him go from us. A devout pastor, and able theologian he and his interesting family will be greatly missed. We cheerfully commend him and his companion and flock of children to the good people of Hopkinsville and Christian county.

Rev. R. V. Bennett.

Rev. L. F. Piercy is succeeded here as pastor of the Methodist Church by Rev. R. V. Bennett, President of the Lindsey-Wilson School. He is a popular minister in Conference, one who attracts and holds his congregations. Rev. Bennett's charge, before coming to Columbia was in Louisville; and in that city he ranked with the ablest ministers. We are truly glad that the church here has been supplied with this gifted and God fearing man.

Red Cross Meeting.

The members of the Smiths Chapel Sunday School, gave an entertainment at Smith Chapel school house Sunday afternoon Sept., 29th, after which the congregation was asked to give a free will offering for the benefit of the Red Cross workers, and to help aid our friends and relatives who are fighting for us "over there." The offerings amounted to $32.60.

All of whom taken part in the entertainment did their part well. The songs and speeches were all good and very appropriate for the occasion.

The above mentioned date was also the closing day for the Sunday school at Smiths Chapel, on account of the approaching winter weather and the condition of the roads are so bad during the winter months that it is very inconvenient to go to and from the school house. The writer regrets very much that the Sunday School has to be discontinued but he hopes they will be able to organize the school again in a few months also thanking each and every one for their attendance and interest both in the Sunday school and the Red Cross Rally.

Superintendent.

He leaves a wife and several children. Since early manhood he had been a devout member of the Baptist Church.

The Annual Convention of the Christian churches of Adair Co., was held at Glenville Sept. 27 to 29. This was the largest of our conventions for years. The spiritual and patriotic notes were dominant. The addresses were of an unusually high order. There are 16 churches in the county, 14 of these sent or brought reports. 11 churches have regular preaching and Sunday School. There have been 150 additions to the churches during the year. The missionary offerings have increased. Loyalty to God and His Christ and His Word more pronounced than usual.

ATTENTION.

Red Cross Members and Everybody Especially Boys and Girls.

For the purpose of making Gas masks to protect our soldiers from German poison Gases, the Government needs all the peach stones, plum stones, cherry stones, walnut shells, hickory nut shells, it can get and has asked the Red Cross members to gather them in from all part of Adair county and send them to it.

Judge W. S. Sinclair has agreed to receive them at the court-house in Columbia and keep them until shipped.

So every body will gather up all they can get and bring or send them in as soon as they can.

It does not matter how old they are if sound, but they must be dry. It is the shell and not the kernel that is wanted. They need not be separated but just brought in walnut shells and hickory nut shells, &c., all in the same lot. Let us see what a big pile of them we can make. If you desire you may send them in with kernel in. This is expected to be done. Let us see how much you have done, not for pay, but as an act of patriotism.

Your scribe has been battling with something akin to Spanish influenza for five days. Its terribleness may be accounted for on account of the Hun introduction. A study of the diagnosis of the disease will indicate what you will have to undergo, while under the influence of it. Perfect quietude, fresh air and a physician are the necessary requisition.

Corn and tobacco cutting are in full force at present. About two-thirds of the tobacco have been housed, but very little of the corn is in the shock. The late rains checked it from maturing readily, and it will take at least two more weeks of favorable weather in order to put it out of longer of part. There is going to be a considerable shortage in fodder, and strict economy will have to be practiced in order to not demands.

Jack Campbell bought a sorrel mule colt from J. P. Conover, of your county, for $125. It is a perfect figure of a show animal, and if he could be fortunate to purchase a match to it, his chances of securing $1,000 for the pair in a few years would be flattering. Good mule colts are selling well, but seconds are drab.

Never before have so many young men went to college from this county as this time. Nearly all of them passed the requisite number of educational units, and being in the draft, it was wisdom upon their parts to take advantage of the splendid opportunities offered.

If the war eases up in the meantime, these boys will be a great addition to the business world. They all joined the Students Army Training Corps.

In the man-power bill, which was recently put into action 1,271 registered in this county. 78 of them had reached the age of 45.

Dear Editor:—

As I have many friends in Columbia and surrounding country that I cannot write to personally will attempt to write a few items to your paper thinking probably some of them would like to hear from me, as it would be useless for me to try to write to them all. I have been in France for some time and am enjoying the best of health and like fine. I left America May 17th, 1918, and landed safely overseas, June 5th. I sure had a pleasant sea voyage although there were times that I would have liked to have been somewhere else.

I have had the pleasure of being in England, France, and Belgium since I left and seeing a good portion of each. I am now at the front writing this letter in my little dug-out, and believe me the shells crackle over my head, in fact the Huns issue to many iron rations anyway. They rush and shout but they can't get us out and believe me the Yanks and doe boys will go over the top and get them when the rest fail. There are many Adair county boys with me that came with me from Camp Taylor, and we sure have some times fighting the rats and mosquitoes, two rats woke me up the other night arguing which one should wear my overcoat and gas mask. Boys don't hesitate in coming to France for you will never regret your trip, and if any of my friends would like to write to me I would accept same with pleasure.

My address is Hqrs., Co., 120 Infantry A. E. F. As news is very scarce I will ring off for this time, wishing everybody success and remember Adair county will do their bit.

I remain,

John Rose.

Rugby.

We had a light frost here last Friday night, but no damage done. This was the first of the season.

Saving fodder, molasses making and tobacco cutting is the order of the day here. Your scribe dismissed his school one week to save fodder. Hands were scarce at $1.50 per day and hard to find at that.

Tobacco here come out better than anyone thought it would. J. M. Shives had the best crop in this section. He could hire no hands and Uncle Jo had to put on some old clothes and cut it himself.

Mr. Willie Bean and Arthur Royse and two daughters were in Columbia this week.

Mr. West Sparks, last Friday, while cutting a tree, a limb that had lodged fell on him and pinned him to the earth. His two boys took the limb off of him. He did not know anything for several hours. He had a gash cut in the top of his head about three inches long and his neck and shoulders considerably bruised.

Your scribe sold to Isaiah Henson a few days ago, a nice bunch of shoats.

Editor News:—

The University of Kentucky opened last week with a large enrollment of students, mostly young men desiring to enter the Students Army Training Corps.

The S. A. T. C., is now duly organized, and the students are having Military drill daily. Freshmen are experiencing army life in the form of doing guard duty.

Physical examinations have been given many students and they have been measured for their uniforms. The barracks are nearing completion and will probably be ready for the Student Soldiers by Oct., 1.

All the boys from Adair, namely, John D. Lowe, Paul C. Blair, Shreve T. Davis, Chelcie R. Barger and Ralph T. Garnett, have been given the physical examination and successfully passed. Also they have been measured for their uniforms. Each of these boys have had their turn on guard duty.

Memorial services were held at the University Monday afternoon in honor of the four S. A. T. C., students, who were killed in a wreck near Cincinnati Sunday morning.

There will be a review of the student soldiers Oct., 1. This will be the first review of the S. A. T. C.

Very truly yours,

Adair S. A. T. C., Club.

Dear Mother:—

I landed here all right and I am well and getting along all right. I didn't get to write any on the way down here. I sure had a fine time coming, was on the road four days and a half. I saw lots of fine country. I came through Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Canada, and I saw the Niagara Falls. They were a show to see. We took a hike out to the Falls, and I crossed Lake Erie. When we got to Jersey City, we took a boat and went to New York. Guess we traveled something like one hour on the boat. We took a train out to Camp. We got lots of candy as we came from the Red Cross girls and every town we came through gave us a hearty welcome. I think we are going to be examined for oversea to-day. I don't know when I will have to go. This sure is a lively place up here. The air is full of airships. I think I will like up here better than I did down south. I came through the oil fields of Louisiana. They were a big show to me. Answer and tell me all the news. Your loving soldier boy,

J. B. Loy.

By VICTOR ROUSSEAU

This is a story of two American wars. It begins with the assault of the American forces upon the Spanish defenders of Santiago in the days of '98 and the scenes of the closing chapters are laid upon the steel-swept fields of France where the soldiers of the great republic of the western world are battling the foes of humanity and civilization.

Intrigue, mystery, chivalry, love, feats of bravery on the field of honor—all these elements are interwoven in a story that mystifies and grips and thrills.

This first up-to-the-minute novel of the new America—the America upon whose arms rests the fate of the world—will appear as a serial in this paper, beginning in an early issue.

LIVER DIDN'T ACT
DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia

Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak."

I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught."

Seventy years of successful use has made Thedford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. Price 25c. a package—One cent a dose all druggists. J. B.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Again the Government comes to the people of the country with the request that they lend their money, and lend it upon a more liberal scale than ever before, in order that the great war for the rights of America and the liberation of the world may be prosecuted with ever increasing vigor to a victorious conclusion. And it makes the appeal with the greatest confidence because it knows that every day it is becoming clearer and clearer to thinking men throughout the nation that the winning of the war is an essential movement. The money that is held back now will be of little use or value if the war is not won and the selfish masters of Germany are permitted to dictate what America may and may not do. Men in America, besides, have from the first until now dedicated both their lives and their fortunes to the vindication and maintenance of the great principles and objects for which our Government was set up. They will not fail now to show the world for what their wealth was intended.

THE MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY

"DAMN THE UNITED STATES!"—"I wish I may never hear of the United States."

John Alton, a conscientious pacifist, utters this curse at a time when he is angered by the scorn of his patriotic friend, and dejected by the loss of his sweetheart, Barbara Norton, who considers him a slacker. John is induced to read Edward Everett Hale's famous story: "THE MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY," and the incidents seem to him like a replica of his own life in a previous existence. As Lieut. Phillip Nolan, U. S. A., John sees himself on trial for the identical curse against the United States: uttered by himself; then condemned to pass the rest of his life as an unshackled prisoner on board a warship without ever hearing of the country to which he belonged, and eventually dying in his cabin with a benediction for the flag of the United States.

The visualization of the story quickens in John Alton, the dormant sense of responsibility to his country, and he becomes a recruit at Fort Slocum.

Meanwhile Barbara has been a Red Cross nurse in France. The ship on which she is returning to America is attacked by a German submarine and the wreck floating in mid-ocean presents a triumph to film realism. Whether Barbara was rescued from the wreck to resume the interrupted romance with her former lover is fully revealed in the final reel. Dear Papa & all:-

Am aboard the Transport and am now far, far away from home and land. We have been out nine days and you can imagine the trip. The censorship is very strict, otherwise I could give you all interesting account of events.

It looks that you will have to wait patiently for news or word until the end of the war. Mainly I want to say that I am well and in good spirits and feel very optimistic. I trust that it won't be long before we can drive home a deadly blow to Germany and bring a lot of joy to the entire world. I am getting along mighty well with my command. I have no idea what sector I will be sent to at all. I feel very optimistic over the situation and think it will end before next June, or it can not go through two more winters. Some think that it will cease this fall with an Armistice, but I don't think so. If it should end I would certainly be proud of the fact I would certainly be proud of the fact I was called across.

Now you all should not worry about me I will be all right I think and should feel proud that I have come to represent your home in this struggle.

I am not forgetting that I have fortitude and courage, which of course came to me by birth and enables me to hold up when I see so many who are without nerve. I am not thinking about danger at all, and furthermore I am not worried for that is folly. I am not worried over Subs much for with an even chance I can get by I think.

Now these things constitute one essential for a soldier, but above all else I cannot overlook the fact that with God's help and guidance I have an assurance which is more than justifiable. As I say it won't be long before I can come back and want to set aside the Uniform and Regalia for a peaceful life. Of course if I get back I want to engage in some profitable work.

All I could say is be patient and await the results calmly and I believe all will end O. K.

Since writing the above I have been ordered to the front sector and will drop you all a line before I leave. I don't know what about it, but I believe you all understand. I guess I will come out O. K.

Love to you all and I trust we shall meet again some day. Will let you know about my welfare as best I can. Whatever happens to me, I am quite certain the Germans are doomed and our cause is just and I am proud at that to use all I have to push this battling with a lot of destruction as possible.

Friday 31,

Dear Folks:-

Am still in the suburbs of this City and am expecting to get train orders any hour. I have my instruction where, how and to whom I am to report, and would give anything to let you know on what sector I am going, but of course I can't do that.

I had some experience yesterday. A crowd of us Officers took tea at an old Chateau, or a country village home we would say. It was above me to give a graphic description of all the things there. This lady had been an actress in Paris years ago, when she married this duke, who of course owned this castle and ground. One building was built in 1255. The way we spoke French with our hands was amusing to the fresh people. One tiny grain of sugar was allowed in the tea, not over two grains. All the conditions were very ancient around this place and we looked on with our mouths open. I will have many things to tell when I come back, which of course I hope will be soon.

The French people are a great people are so grateful to the Americans in extremes. It is very cold here and has been for a long time. It rains very frequently also.

I have received my orders to what sector I am to go to, but have to wait until French authorities can get cars to move us.

Don't want you to worry about me for I will get along O. K. I believe and will be back in America next year some time.

The French people are very much encouraged, but the Germans know how to retire as well as advance. Of course they are getting a lot of hard blows, and will eventually crumble at such constantly hard blows.

The men coming in from the front lines have some very unique tales to tell, every one fashion their own story I guess. Of course it is all well with the Allies, but allow the people to forget that the Germans are not yet beaten and still have fight in them. As I say don't worry one bit about me, for there is a lot to this here and I would not feel right back in the U. S. A., and I could help out some. When it is over I can return and live in happiness and peace, I hope the rest of my life. I am not worrying about mishaps &c. for it useless to do that.

Sept. 2,

It is as cold as Christmas here and rains each day almost. There are a few million flies over here and no screens at all I can see. You to wait opportunity or eat a fly or so.

The customs here are of course old, but they are in a way behind us in many ways. I walked into a certain city to-day and saw number of funny sights.

Hope you are all well at home, I have had a very bad cold since here, as it is so cold.

We see men come back who have been shell shocked and gassed and some are pretty hard looking.

I must close tonight as I must go in.

P. S. A Frenchman I talked to yesterday said that the War would cease in six months. He was in front line for three years, yet a Captain came back and said; "We did not have then that way" so there you are. I predict that in spring of 1920 will see it over, as there is much severe fighting yet.

Saw a Dirigible Flyer come over City and fort to-day, we see lots of them.

Aug. 26.

Dear Papa & all:-

Have arrived safely in France and have seen much of interest.

The 4 years of war and its toll is visible but the spirit of the French is wonderful.

The condition in Germany must be very acute as well as depressing.

My eyes never beheld such sights as I marched my men through a certain City. The French are a most grateful folk. While marching through the City I allowed my men to fall out and rest I sat on a rock curbing across from my men and a lady came up and said. "Monsieur fatigues" I was lost for words but finally replied, "Madame, of Madam" which meant yes, Miss or Madam. Crowds followed us for miles, yelling in French "welcome to our city &c."

The scenery is very extraordinary and beautiful. No one house in this City is frame, all are stone.

Nearly every woman I have seen wears mourning. America does not have the slightest idea of what France has suffered. Our troops are so much bigger and healthier looking. The French are all small statue, but very great fighters.

We cook on stove and in open just as in front lines.

My men are all good Soldiers, but some are tough. I am getting along mighty well though and they all seem to have a good deal of respect for me and what I want done.

The weather is funny here daylight about 20 out of 24 hours.

I will say I will leave here at once and will be in front very soon, so be very calm and confident for I will come out O. K. I hope and pray.

People here are very optimistic about the War and things most certainly look bright for us. You will hear from me often. I wish I could see you all, every one, and Esther so much, but can't think about those things much.

Give my regards to all the boys, and with love to you all.

Affectionately,
Romie Judd.

U. S. TREASURY IS AN UNTIRING WATCHDOG TO SAFEGUARD BONDS

Means Are Taken to Protect Owner of Liberty Securities of Every Issue.

Every item of financial legislation at Washington these days is coming under the closest scrutiny of the Treasury Department, and being put to the acid test to see that it is going to work out to the benefit of the Liberty Bond owner.

Every influential measure which can be brought to bear is utilized to cut down the number of sales of bonds in the exchanges and to keep up the price of what few bonds are sold.

There is a remarkably small number of such sales, and the tendency of the market has been toward higher prices. The public, the small investor in particular, is coming to know and realize more fully what a treasure his bond is to store up for the future. The Wall Street Journal, in a recent issue, said:

Money Is Cheap Now.

"All the economies of war finance point to government bonds as the soundest and most far-sighted investment a person can make during these times. Persons should realize that by investing in government bonds they are buying with cheap money a call on dear money in the future."

"A dollar invested today will be worth perhaps $2 in purchasing power after the war. If we exercise economy in personal expenditure and lend the savings thereby created to the government it will be repaid at a time when those savings will be able to purchase perhaps twice as much as they can now. And after the war 4 1/2 per cent interest on a gilt-edged security will look relatively big."

OCTOBER 12TH, "LIBERTY DAY"

Anniversary of America's Discovery to Be Celebrated in Every Town and Hamlet in the United States.

Plans to have Oct. 12, the anniversary of America's discovery, set aside officially as Liberty Day are under way in Washington, according to a telegram received at Liberty Loan Headquarters.

A celebration in every school community of the United States, numbering nearly 300,000, is being arranged through the United States Bureau of Education. A program is to be carried out in every school building, city, town and country, throughout the nation on that day. There will be close co-operation between school officials and local Liberty Loan committees, in order to obtain the best results from the celebrations.

The Bureau of Education will send to each schoolhouse a suggestive program—one in line with the discovery of America and the present program of keeping America free, even at the cost of bloodshed, suffering and sacrifices of money and property. The program will be suggestive only and can be changed or another substituted to meet the needs of the particular community.

"The discovery of America opened a new road to freedom," the telegram telling of the plans suggests, "but it is our task to keep the road open."

It is not necessary to state that Liberty Day would also be Liberty Loan Day. The two could not be separated. The Liberty Loans are put forth that the freedom of America that came in the wake of Columbus and his fleet of ships may live on forever. On that day we will also celebrate the freedom of other nations and peoples that we are fighting to help maintain.

FARMER IS LEARNING THAT LIBERTY BONDS ARE BEST SECURITIES

Patriotism Was Always His, and Now He Is Developing Thrift and Is Bond Holder.

Everything indicates that the farmers of the Eighth Federal Reserve District are going to beat all records on the Fourth Liberty Loan subscription. This is the opinion of a former Governor of Illinois on his return from an extensive "swing around the circle."

"I have been making some inquiries," he said, "and I find that the criticism of the farmers for being a little slow in understanding the rock-bottom facts about the First and Second Loans has lost all its point now."

"We are apt to forget that people close to the land readily fall into the habit of thinking in terms of land property. Whereas the city man early gets used to 'paper values' and feels very comfortable with a bundle of collateral, the farmer had to be educated out of the notion that nothing is safe except the solid red dirt in the fields—unless it be a mortgage resting solidly on that ground."

Learn Bonds' Value.

"It took the farmer a little time to get accustomed to the notion of securities, outside of mortgages on the next quarter section of land. It took a little time to convince him that a bond was not a highly perishable thing. He thought it out and knows better now."

"By having Liberty Loan Bonds registered they are as safe as an upland meadow. And besides that they back up the army which is fighting for the safety and protection of everything in America. There isn't a foot of ground in America which would be immune from the exactions of an invading enemy if his armed forces get a landing on our shores. The farmers have come to a full realization of this, and you may be sure that there is going to be a hearty response on the part of the farmers when the FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE begins. Liberty Loan Bonds are the best insurance as well as the best investment. Trust Mr. Farmer to get the full force of both propositions."

MINERS BUY LIBERTY BONDS

Illinois Union Officials Authorized to Purchase $500,000 of Approaching Fourth Issue.

The United Mine Workers of America for the Illinois district have set the pace for purchases of Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds. At a meeting of the executive board for District No. 12, which is the Illinois district, held at Springfield recently, the officials of the organization were authorized to purchase $500,000 out of the district funds of the Illinois Miners' Union.

President Frank Farington has been active in support of the cause of the successful conclusion of the war by active support of all governmental activities. This represents only a small part that the Illinois Mine Workers have done in the war activities, but it is indicative of the way in which all organized labor will support.

Every labor organization throughout the South and Southwest will do well to emulate the action of the mine workers in investing all their available funds in government securities.

Loans to Our Allies.

An additional credit of $400,000,000 was made by the United States treasury to Great Britain on August 30. This brings the total of credits to Great Britain to $3,725,000,000. The total advances to all of the entente allies now amount to $7,000,000,000.

WILL YOU HELP OUR BOYS ABROAD?

Every Man, Woman and Child Can Join to Send News of This Town into the Front Line Trenches.

WHOLE NATION MOVES TO BANISH SOLITUDE

Our Heroes Are Calling From Over There—Give What You Can to Help Those From Home.

Every citizen interested in the boys of his home town now at the front, and in the brave women who equally are serving their country abroad, has an opportunity to show his appreciation of the sacrifice they are making. The opportunity comes as a result of the generosity and thought of Colonel William Boyce Thompson of New York, who has conceived and put into execution what is known as the Home Paper Service.

Under the plan, every man and woman in foreign service will receive the town newspaper, and so be kept in constant touch with the places and the people they know and love.

Every branch of the United States Government is interested in the plan. The Government realizes the importance of keeping those in the service happy and constantly in touch with their home ties and associations. Nothing is more depressing in a national emergency than the spirit of loneliness in those serving their country, and officials know that nothing can dispel this feeling more effectively than reading the home town newspaper.

Publishers of newspapers in all parts of the country—this newspaper included—have grasped with pleasure the plan outlined by Colonel Thompson, and they have agreed to co-operate in every way.

Under the ruling of the War Industries Board newspaper publishers are forbidden to send their newspapers free, even to soldiers. The newspaper must be subscribed for in the regular way, the only exception being soldiers who formerly were in the employ of the newspaper and who left that service to enlist. Colonel Thompson therefore proposes that the public in each community contribute to a fund so that the home newspaper (in our case this newspaper) may reach every man and woman now in the service of his country.

Anyone may contribute to the fund, and any sum may be contributed. It is not necessary to contribute the entire amount of one subscription. It does not matter whether the rich man sends in one hundred dollars or the poor boy or little girl sends in five cents. Each gift will be a message of love and helpfulness to the home town folks "Over There." The money will be lumped into one fund, out of which subscriptions will be entered as fast as the money is received.

Contributors who send in the full price of a year's subscription may, if they wish, designate to what particular person they wish the newspaper sent, but if the name given is already listed as receiving the paper, then the publisher reserves the right to apply the subscription to some less fortunate soldier boy or noble woman who is just as lonely for news of home and home folks.

The name of every contributor to this home paper service will be published in this newspaper, and the name of everyone entered for a subscription will be published as well as the number of those remaining whose subscriptions have not been covered.

If the amount of money received shall be more than is necessary to send the paper to every person from the town now in the service, then the balance will be turned over to the Red Cross.

The plan is endorsed by the publisher of this newspaper without any thought of profit, either directly or indirectly, but with a sincere desire to help keep the home fires burning and to send to our heroes and heroines news of our town, to keep their hearts warm for us and to let them know they are constantly in our minds.

The publisher, of course, cannot make a profit on circulation, and additional circulation such as this will be—circulation from non-purchasers sent far across the sea—can have no added value to the advertiser.

These facts are stated so that every contributor may feel that every cent contributed goes to the good cause.

The mothers of our boys are facing an ordeal with a bravery that commands respect and admiration. Here and there where tiny stars are turned from blue to gold, where anguish grips the heart, the nation stands in silence and honors the women who have given of their blood, the very bone of their bone, to their country. To them, home has lost its meaning—the soul of it has fled—there is no home, it is just a place, and no place is quite so lonely, unless it be within the hearts of those brave sons in far off France who long for just a word of home. There cannot be a man, there cannot be a woman, no, not even a child, who will fail to contribute just a little to make the hearts of these patriots lighter. Not one. Not in our town.

He Was "Broken"

Capt. Wallace, U. S. A., was a victim of sinister forces that sought to betray America to the enemy.

But he "came back." On the battlefields of France he fought for the honor of the army that had discarded him. He lived to win vindication and the hand of the "daughter of the regiment" who had never doubted him.

Bride of Battle

Victor Rousseau's romance of the American army in France, which we will print in serial form, is a gripping story in which intrigue, love and war all play a part. It is the first up-to-the-minute novel of America at war.

No. 36.

Reminiscences of Col. Wolford.

In 1882 he was a candidate before the Democratic State Convention for the nomination for the office of Clerk of the Court of Appeals, but was defeated. The contest however, served the purpose of calling public attention to him, and when the Eleventh Congressional District was soon afterwards created, the concerting opinion of the Democracy of the State pointed to him as the man to lead the party in the fight, to place it in the Democratic column.

He had an enthusiastic walk over for two terms, but, in his third he met his Waterloo. This was not strange as he was never known to write a letter to a constituent during his two terms of office.

In his second race for Congress he was opposed by W. W. Jones, then a young man.

The Democratic platform of that year said in one clause that the party had "outlined" its policy in previous platforms or words to that effect. Wolford in his hasty perusal of it (he was not a close and critical reader) read the word outlined "out-lived," and as he did not give it a second reading, he entered the canvass with that impression, and made his speeches accordingly. He told how in the Greely race, and in other contests, the party had ignored principle for policy in the effort to regain power, and how it had met ignominious defeat; but now, he said, it had turned its back upon policy and was standing as the exponent of great principles, and that victory was ahead. As he talked upon this subject he waxed warm and grandly eloquent, the boys applauded him with shouts and clapping of hands. It was the keynote of his canvass. Jones was powerless to stem the swelling tide. In vain he attempted to convince the crowd that Wolford mis-read the platform. Wolford would not listen to the suggestion, but insisted in reply, and usually convinced his followers, that a Republican did not know either now to read or expound a Democratic platform, and that it was the highest presumption in his apponent a novice in politics, to attempt to tell him or others what the Democracy fought or believed.

No man ever engaged in a political debate with Wolford when he was in his prime, who did not come out of it second best.

As the Casey county boy said "he could turn any of them down in a rough and tumble."

Wolford's speaking like his fighting, was according to no known rule, but was after its own fashion, and he was very certain at some point in the discussion to turn the laugh on his opponent. He knew how to capture and audience and use it to worry and harass the opposition, and it was seldom that a man who met him in discussion once ever desired to get under his fire again. To do so not only meant to meet Wolford himself, but to meet every man in the crowd who stood behind him, because they were all ready to yell for him and in the most exasperating way. The man who could face him and the boys behind him possessed a strong nerve and a tough cuticle.

A few years before Wolford's death there was a warm and doubtful contest in this Senatorial district and the late A. M. Swope was sent down to rally his political friends and demoralize the opposition. Swope had visited the district before and made a fine impression on Republicans and Democrats alike, hence, his coming was looked to with some alarm by the Democrats, and with great hope by his party friends, as he was a man of fine personal appearance and popular address. The question was considered in what way he could best be met and his influence neutralized. After some conference it was agreed that the best thing that could be done was to put Wolford after him.

A team and driver was secured and the "old war horse" was directed to follow him to his appointments, ask a division of time—if he granted it, "to give him the best in the shop, and, if he refused a division to take charge of the crowd when Swope finished and "bug-rag" him to his satisfaction.

Nothing more pleasing could have been suggested to the "old hero." He met him at two of his appointments in joint debate, and, the third day, as it was reported, Swope "was not thar." In a not very amiable frame of mind he retired from the district and Wolford returned home with a smile of satisfaction on his face feeling if not saying with the old Roman, veni, vidi, vici.

Wolford was full of resources on the stump, and was always composed and self poised. If he lost his balance or felt "shaky" no one could detect it. He could not be turned down upon a question of fact, and he never needed a fact to sustain his position.

In war a soldier sometime pushes his cap in view to draw the fire of the enemy. Wolford practiced the same tactics in debate. He presented a harmless issue to try his adversary and amuse the audience; or in other words used a mis-statement as a decoy. This scheme he practiced on Gen. Speed S. Frye.

The General was sent down to Casey county to fill some appointments and he and Wolford met in joint debate. Fry spoke first and Wolford followed him, and, in describing the outrages and cruelty practiced by the carpet baggers at the close of the war he was especially severe on the authorities for hanging Jefferson Davis and Robt. F. Lee.

Fry listened for a while in amazement, and finally unable to restrain himself longer, he arose to his feet, interrupted Wolford, and denied that Davis and Lee had been hanged, but insisted that they were living and in the enjoyment of their freedom. Wolford let him conclude his statement, and then addressing the audience again said it was not the first time he had heard this denial. It was the way of Republican speakers to deny all the cruelty of which they had been guilty in the South. He was not in the habit making statements that could not be substantiated, and fortunately he had proof at hand to establish what he had said about the treatment of Davis and Lee. There were men present under the sound of his voice who were present and eye witnesses to the facts, and, as his veracity had been questioned by the denial of Gen Fry, he would ask them to stand up and say whether or not it was true.

"You, Jim were a soldier, state whether or not you were present at the time?" Jim arose promptly and testified that "He was thar and it was a fact."

"And what do you know about it, John?" inquired Wolford of another, "It is the God's truth. Colonel, I was right there, and saw 'm when they tied the rope." One and another arose in the Forward!

With no thought of bursting shrapnel and poisonous gases into which they plunge--with every muscle tense, with every faculty of mind alert, with one thought only--TO FIGHT AND WIN.

That is the way our men are going into battle. When the shrill whistle sounds the advance, out they go--their whole heart in the task before them. No power on earth can hold them back.

Believing that it is the duty of every person who enjoys the freedom and privileges of citizenship in our great Country to do his utmost to help win the war, the following firms and individuals have patriotically contributed the money to pay for this and other advertisements of the Fourth Liberty Loan:

Forward!

The same sharp challenge to battle is sounding for us. We must answer in the same proud way--the way of our fighting men--the American way. We must lend the way they fight.

We must show the war-maddened hun a united American people moving forward shoulder to shoulder, irresistibly, to Victory.

Our task is to supply the money, the ships, the guns, the shells that we must have to win. It is a tremendous task. We must do our part as our fighting men do theirs--with the indomitable spirit of Victory.

We must work, and save, and lend with one thought only--TO FIGHT AND WIN.
